DR. WASHINGTON GIVES NEGROES SOUND ADVICE

Heard by Large Audience Sunday Evening.

Large Number of White People of City Out To Hear Noted Leader of the Colored Race—Urged His People To Put Skill Into Whatever Work They Were Engaged in and to Make Themselves Worthy of Their Hire—His Doctrine Is Work, Honesty, Integrity and Religion—Heartily Welcomed to City.

Dr. Booker T. Washington, the noted orator and leader of the colored race, and president of Tuskeegee Institute, was greeted at the Auditorium on Sunday evening by an audience of more than 2500 people. There were hundreds of white people present, and they were among the leading men and women of Greensboro, too, besides many visitors.

The meeting was presided over by George H. Mitchell, president of the Colored Business Men's League and other prominent leaders of the negro race.

Hon. E. J. Justice introduced the speaker in a speech that was listened to with intense interest. He spoke of Dr. Washington's work in the South and what it was his aim to accomplish. And when Dr. Washington arose he said that if he should speak all night he could do nothing more than enlarge upon what Mr. Justice had already said.

Booker T. Washington is great in that he has adopted the only true and safe method of leading his people. His doctrine is work, honesty, integrity, cleanliness, and religion. He spoke for more than an hour, and there was wisdom and practical common sense in every word he uttered.

He said his reason for coming to Greensboro was to learn the conditions of his people and how best to serve them and to cement the relationship between the black man and the white man. He said that his people were laboring under disadvantages, largely for the reason that the outside world was too ready to judge the race not by the good deeds done among them, but by the wickedness of the lawless class; that the good was not heralded, but that when one of them committed crime, it was too often used to bring reproach upon the negro as a race. He said that he found people in Europe who had an idea that white people in the South lynched negroes for pasttime, but that in fact, the negro was as well or better treated in the South than anywhere, and declared that he would not live anywhere else. Indeed, should the negro go elsewhere, he would not stay; and even if he desired to live elsewhere, the white people would not let him.

He urged his people to work, and to put skill into what they did; that the day of shiftless methods was past, and that whether one of them was employed to cook, to farm, to run a barber shop or to drive a dray, he must dignify his work, and strive to do it with the very best ability of which he was capable.

He called upon them to save their earnings by starting a bank account right away; that the man who had saved up enough to buy him a home and who had a wife with whom he could consult regarding finances, home duties, and the right training of their children was the man to be relied upon; that the fellow who worked a few days and then loafed a few days while spending his earnings was the man that was complained of as unreliable and who helped to bring reproach upon his race. He urged them to draw the line and get rid of the shiftless rascal who loafs and deadbeats, and called upon the white people to help them get him to work or get him out of the community. He said that he believed in religion and in Heaven, but that he was more interested in getting a little heaven into the lives of the people now than in getting them into Heaven hereafter, and would rather they would put a bath-tub into the home than to shout all night and sing "Wash Me in the Blood."

One very interesting feature of the evening was the music. It is everywhere known that the negro can sing, and when Major Moton, a Richmond man, and a negro of the good-natured type, started ab[illegible] his audience to singi[illegible] the old-time negro melodi[illegible] was enough in that one act to pay a man for having come many miles.

Dr. Washington and party, composed of several notable men of his race, arrived in the city Sunday at six o'clock from Winston. They were met at the train and given a most cordial welcome to the city by a large number of the most prominent and influential colored people of the city. Every courtesy was shown the noted negro and his party and no effort was spared to make their stay in the city as pleasant as possible. The party spent yesterday morning in Reidsville, returning to Greensboro at noon. After luncheon at one of the colored hotels the party was taken over the city by the entertainment committee, the colored institutions being visited before the train for the East arrived. Dr. Washington and party left at 3:20 o'clock for Durham, where he spoke last night, a large number of colored people accompanying the party to the train. Here Dr. Washington shook hands with each negro present and bid all a cordial farewell, expressing his pleasure at being here and thanking the committee for the hearty and sincere manner in which he had been received.

FIRE SUNDAY MORNING.

Slight Blaze At the Moravian Church—Prompt Work by Firemen.

The Moravian church on Lee street was slightly damaged by fire Sunday morning shortly after the heating plant was started up for the day. Three fire companies responded to box No. 53, and found a blaze on the front part of the roof near the furnace chimney. Though not of much consequence it was in a fair way to spread rapidly. The greatest damage came from water thrown on the fire. It is not known whether the fire originated from a defect in the flue or a falling spark. An inspector had gone over the entire heating arrangement the evening before and passed upon its first class condition for use during the winter. The congregation met with the Friends for the morning service, the Moravian minister, Rev. Mr. White, preaching the sermon. The damages to the church will be repaired in time for use of the church next Sunday.

CENTENARY PHILATHEAS.

After Business Meeting Last Night the Young Ladies Celebrated Hallowe'en.

Prepared For The Telegram.

The most enjoyable and unique meeting of the Philathea class of Centenary church was held last night at the home of Mrs. C. C. Townsend, Arlington street. The business meeting was of short duration and the social committee then took charge.

Miss Sallie Embrey, chairman of the social committee, and her most efficient assistants had planned a most appropriate and elaborate program, the occasion being that of All Hallowe'en night, when ghosts and spooks and goblins, held their revels. The house had been most suitably decorated, with ferns and cut, flowers, and jack-o'lanterns galore. Mrs. Townsend in her usual hospitable manner had given over her home, for the time being, to this most excellent band of young ladies and they in turn showed their appreciation of her goodness by enjoying the occasion immensely. The front hall was dimly lighted with candles and Jack-O'Lanterns and there, the receiving line, consisting of two spooks, welcomed each guest with cold, clammy hands and doleful remarks. Much merriment was created by fortune telling in various ways. In following the mysterious threads of fortune many of the young ladies were led into the yard and back again through dark piazzas, only to find the ever present black cat. Coffee and cream was served by minature ghosts with the solmen injunction to "drink and be wise."

Afterwards we were invited into the dining room, where a most delicious salad course was served. Each one having been served, all assembled in the hall where thrilling and blood curdling ghost stories were told by the whiterobed spooks.

At a late hour the crowd dispersed voting this the very best meeting of all.

TRYING TO BREAK WILL.

Protest Against Manner In Which Jas. Kirkpatrick Disposed of Estate.

When Guilford Superior Court convened yesterday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock the first case taken up was No. 2256, entitled "In the matter of the will of Jas. Kirkpatrick, deceased." The case consumed the entire afternoon and when court convenes this morning Judge Lyon will charge the jury.

The caveators are Mr. T. W. Kirkpatrick and Mrs. D. W. Miller, of New York, and their action is taken on the grounds that the deceased was not in his right mind when the instrument was made. The propounders, Mrs. T. A. Armstrong and Mr. J. J. Power, of this city, hold this is not the case.

The deceased came to Greensboro in October, 1907, according to the evidence, and while here lived with his niece, Mrs. Armstrong. Just a month after his arrival he died, having made a will several days previous leaving his entire estate, valued at from $10,000 to $15,000, to his niece, Mrs. Armstrong, and nephew Mr. Power. The estate is in Patterson, N. J. The caveators bear the same relation to the deceased as the propounders.

The case was hard fought, the attorneys contesting every point in the case. Mr. T. C. Hoyle represents the caveators, while Col. J. A. Barringer represents the propounders.

In Municipal Court.

There were only two cases on the docket when Judge Eure convened Municipal court yesterday morning. Joe Holt was sent to the workhouse for thirty days on the charge of vagrancy and in addition taxed with the costs in the case. Wilson Belton was charged with an assault, but he failed to appear. Judgment nisi sci fa and alias warrant was entered upon the record.

CHRISTIAN ENDEAVOR.

Interesting Meeting Held At Grace M. P. Church Last Evening—Enjoyable Social.

The City Union of Christian Endeavor met with the society of Grace M. P. church last evening and an inspiring service was held. Every society in the city was represented and representatives from each society took part in the service, which was led by Dr. W. K. Hartsell, president of the Union. A talk by Rev. T. J. Ogburn was most enjoyable.

After the lesson, which was along missionary lines, had been discussed reports were received from each society, these being quite encouraging as they showed that Christian Endeavor is gaining ground in the city.

The closing feature was the social hour. This was appropriate to Hallowe'en and all present spent a most delightful hour. The room had been decorated in flowers and autumn leaves, while the illumination was effected with candles behind hideous pumpkin faces. Numerous ghost-like figures flitting to and fro added to the weirdness of the scene and the pleasure of the occasion.

HENRI DUNANT DEAD.

Noted Founder of Red Cross Society Passes Away.

Geneva, Switzerland, Oct. 31.—Henri Dunant, founder of the International Red Cross Society, died last night at Neiden, a health resort.

Henri Dunant was of Swiss birth and lived in Geneva. At the battle of Solferino June 24, 1859, he witnessed the needless suffering and loss of life resulting from days of neglect to care for the wounded. Realizing that such conditions need not exist he conceived the idea of pledging the nations of the earth to guard and protect as neutral all sick and wounded combatants and all persons giving them succor. He elaborated his idea and through the co-operation of the Swiss federal council brought about an international conference at Geneva in October, 1863. Sixteen governments were represented.

A uniform flag made of a red cross on a white ground was adopted as a compliment to the Swiss confederation, whose national flag is the reverse.

Monthly Report of Hospital.

The monthly report of St. Leo's hospital shows that during the month of October eighty-two patients were received, sixty-four being discharged. Nineteen of the number were charity patients. There were two deaths and two births. Forty six patients are now in the hospital, all of them doing nicely.

Fire Sunday Evening.

An alarm from box 52 Sunday evening at 6 o'clock called the firemen to the residence of Mr. Troxler, West Lee street. The blaze was extinguished before the firemen arrived, the damage being slight.

Only Sixty-Seven Cases.

During the month of October there were sixty-seven cases tried in Municipal court and nearly all were for trifling offenses. There were only a few drunks.

The reception committee of the Stedman Democratic Club are requested to meet Governor Glenn at the Hotel Huffine on Tuesday at seven thirty o'clock and escort him to the court house.

FINE VIEWS OF MISSION FIELDS

Accompanied by an Entertaining Lecture.

China Portrayed by Word and Stereopticon Slide At West Market Last Night—Mr. Cameron Johnson Tells of Great Work Being Done in That Country—Will Lecture On Japan Tonight—Here Under Auspices of Laymen's Movement.

Last night in the main auditorium of West Market Street Methodist church Mr. Cameron Johnson gave his celebrated illustrated lecture in China. A good sized and thoroughly appreciative audience was present and the lecture was declared by many to have been the best of the kind they had ever heard, the views being especially fine. Mr. Johnson, who comes here under the auspices of the Laymen's Missionary Movement for the purpose of giving to the people facts regarding the foreign mission lands, has spent many years in the heathen lands and many of the slides are from negatives made by himself. Therefore his lecture is all the more realistic and entertaining, besides being highly educational.

Fully two hundred slides, showing different scenes in China, the missionaries and their helpers, were thrown upon the canvas, Mr. Johnson having an interesting sentence regarding each. He spoke of the work being done and the work there is to be done, each thought being impressed deeper by the illustration accompanying it. An interesting slide was one showing that the population of China is 426,000,000. Laboring among these are only 4,175 missionaries with 1,200 native helpers. There are 4,967 stations and 685,000 Christians in the country. Truly, he said, the harvest is great, but the laborers are few.

Another slide that carried food for thought was one showing a number of missionaries who have spent more than half a century in the foreign fields, some of them having lived in China for 58 years.

Tonight Mr. Johnson will lecture on Japan and he stated that the pictures would be even better than those last night, if such could be possible.

As stated above Mr. Johnson is here under the auspices of the Laymen's Movement and people of all denominations are cordially invited to hear him. There is no admission fee, but a silver offering will be taken and everybody will be invited to participate in this. It was at first intended to have the lectures in the new annex, but as the heating plant has not been completed and as it was too cold to do without heat, the meeting place was changed to the main auditorium so all could be made comfortable.

Wednesday night Mr. Johnson will lecture on Korea and on Thursday night he will speak on India.

Sunday morning Mr. Johnson spoke to the Sunday school of Westminster Presbyterian church and on Sunday night he spoke before the congregation of Grace M. P. church. Both talks were greatly enjoyed.

To The Public:

After hearing the lecture of Mr. Cameron Johnson and seeing the beautiful pictures taken by him while in China, we feel it our duty to express our appreciation of the wonderful work he is doing and call attention to the fact that this is the finest illustrated lecture ever given in Greensboro. Hearing Mr. Johnson and seeing these stereopticon views is the next thing to visiting the Orient.

Tonight Mr. Johnson will lecture on Japan and those interested in the customs of that beautiful eastern country should by all means avail themselves of this rare opportunity.

Wednesday and Thursday nights will be devoted to Korea and India. These lectures will be in West Market Street Methodist church and not in the annex as was first thought.

There will be no admission fee, but an offering will be taken to defray the expenses.

DEMOCRATS CLAIM LARGE INCREASE

Expect to Gain 20 Congressional Districts North of Potomac.

Washington, Oct. 29.—The headquarters in this city of the Democratic Congresional Campaign Committee will be practically closed on November 1. At this last stage of the contest there is really very little more to do. Ten days ago most of the literature called for by the candidates, speakers and writers had been distributed in all sections of the country.

From information believed to be entirely reliable the Democrats confidently claim that approximately 20 Congressional districts in States north of the Potomac river, which in this Congress are represented by Republicans, will be lost to the Republicans on November 8th.

Information that has come to hand within the past week appears to bear out the claim also that two of the three Republican Representatives from Kentucky will be defeated. They are Judge Bennett in the Ninth and John W. Langley in the Tenth district.

Some Kentucky Republicans who have been in Washington lately urging upon department employes the necessity of going to their homes to vote have virtually admitted that Bennett and Langley are doomed unless they are materially helped.

In speaking of the situation in the two Kentucky districts one of the visitors said privately: "Judge Bennett had a narrow majority two years ago and probably would not have pulled through then but for the fact that it was a Presidential election year, which brought out a larger vote than is usually cast. Besides, he was not then tangled up with the question of providing offices for hungry patriots in his district.

"Never before has Langley had such a fight, on his hands, and without disparagement to former Democratic candidates, the candidate now running against Langley is stronger than those he had to oppose in years gone by. Unfortunately for Langley, he has promised too much. Indeed, in this respect, he went to such lengths that he is alluded to around the district as 'Promissory John.' He has also 'wobbled' on too many questions that have come up in Congesrs, and appears to have had difficulty in making up his mind as to whether he was an insurgent or a regular, for before he finally got back into the camp of Speaker Cannon he was posing around Washington as a 'kicker,' and in one of the conferences held by certain Republicans to determine where they stood had to be called down by old General Keifer, of Ohio.

The steady use of Foley Kidney Pills rid me entirely of all my former troubles. They have my highest recommendation." Howard Gardner.

LARGEST GAME FISH.

The Tuna Sometimes Attains a Weight of 2,000 Pounds.

Charles Frederick Holder, the California naturalist, thus describes that remarkable fish, the tuna: "The tuna is a pelagic fish, a free lance, an ocean rover, a sort of swaggering musketeer of the sea, the largest of what may be termed the game or bony fishes, attaining a maximum weight of nearly 2,000 pounds and an approximate length of fourteen feet or more. Such a fish is very exceptional, though specimens weighing 1,500 pounds have been taken on the New England coast. I once entered a school of such tunas in the Santa Catalina channel in a big launch. The school divided to port and starboard as we passed through it, and I had a view of one or two fishes that appeared to be more than half as long as the boat.

"These fishes spend the winter in warm latitudes and migrate north as far as the mouth of the St. Lawrence. They are found in the Mediterranean and north to the Loffoden island, yet so far the efforts of anglers, except at Santa Catalina, have failed to take them with the rod. Even here there is a stretch of but eight miles or so where they can be satisfactorily played and taken with rod and reel.

"This region lies on the north side of Santa Catalina, from Avalon to Long point, and to the east as many more, facing the north, and generally smooth—more like a Scottish loch than a fishing ground twenty miles out at sea."—Chicago News.

Mr Otto Paul, Milwaukee, Wis., says: Foley's Honey and Tar is still more than the best. He writes us, "All those that bought it think it is the best for coughs and colds they ever had and I think it is still more than the best. Our baby had a bad cold and it cured him in one day. Please accept thanks." Howard Gardner.

A LADY WEARING TROUSERS.

She's a Chinese, But Attracts Much Attention at Holland House.

New York Sun.

Some of the fashionable folk at the Holland House have been very much interested, to say the least, over the discovery that a woman who is stopping at the hotel does not wear such things as skirts. On the contrary she wears trousers, actually and literally.

It is next to impossible to guess the woman's age, accurately that is. Another woman who observed her said she must be 35 years old at least, though the male mind would set her down as something like 40 years younger. The fact that she wears trousers had not seemed to embarrass her until she found during the last day or two that she was being stared at, and she then immediately began to make inquiries as to where she could purchase skirts without attracting any attention. She was wearing yesterday morning a pair of black silk trousers cut rather full and worn without creases and a white blouse cut with a certain jumper effect and not stuffed into the top of the trousers.

"By George, those pants are a lot more modest than a lot of the hobble skirts that can be seen out on Fifth avenue now," said one, and his opinion was unanimously agreed to.

The woman, it may be explained, is a Chinese nurse employed in the family of Dr. W. H. Solg, the Governor of German Samoa, who is at the Holland House.

HIS TWO BAD DAYS.

Lord Byron Had a Positive Dread of Fridays and Sundays.

The belief in palmists and soothsayers is not, as is sometimes supposed, confined to the ignorant and the credulous. Lord Byron was not a skeptic in these matters. Just before his death, as recorded in "Byron—The Last Phase," by Richard Edgecumbe, "he said he had reflected a great deal on a prediction which had been made to him when a boy by a famed fortune teller in Scotland. His mother, who firmly believed in chiromancy and astrology, had sent for this person and desired him to inform her what would be the future destiny of her son. Having examined attentively the palm of his hand, the man looked at him for awhile steadfastly and then with a solemn voice exclaimed, 'Beware of your thirty-seventh year, my young lord, beware!' He had entered on his thirty-seventh year on Jan. 22, and it was evident from the emotion with which he related this circumstance that the caution of the palmist had produced a deep impression on his mind, which in many respects was so superstitious that we thought it proper to accuse him of superstition. 'To say the truth,' answered his lordship, 'I find it equally difficult to know what not to believe. * * * You will, I know, ridicule my belief in lucky and unlucky days, but no consideration can now induce me to undertake anything either on a Friday or a Sunday. I am positive it would terminate unfortunately. Every one of my misfortunes—and God knows I have had my share—has happened to be on one of those days.' "—London Gentlewoman.

FAMOUS SWORDS.

The Monster Weapon Used at Welsh Eisteddfods.

The largest sword of which there is any record is the seven foot ceremonial sword that was made for Edward III. and is now preserved in Westminster abbey. Next comes the "sword of ceremony" that is used at Welsh eisteddfods. This weapon if placed in the hands of a modern Godfrey de Bouillon, who, it will be recalled, with a two handed sword cleaved a Turk into halves from the shoulder to the hips, would be quite long enough for any one who wished to put it to practical use. It is six feet two inches in length.

Of gorgeous swords which are not so much weapons as settings for precious stones the most valuable in English is said to be the one presented by the Egyptians to Lord Wolseley and valued at $10,000. This sum is comparatively insignificant for a bejeweled sword if the value of the sword brought over to Europe some years ago by the then shah of Persia—namely, $50,000—be taken as a standard of what a diamond hilted weapon ought to cost. Competent authorities on the subject familiar with that famous weapon of the Persian ruler are rather skeptical as to the existence of the gaekwar of Baroda's gorgeous blade, which is supposed to be worth more than twenty swords of equal beauty and value to the shah's, but it is popularly supposed that the diamonds, rubies and emeralds with which it is thickly incrusted bring up its value to about $1,000,000.—Exchange.

How Thackeray Worked.

If ecarte is to be held responsible for Thackeray's appearance as an author, his erratic methods of work contributed equally to his early death. He wrote invariably with the printer's devil in attendance.

"I can conceive nothing more harassing in the literary way," wrote Motley to his wife in 1858, "than Thackeray's way of living from hand to mouth. I mean in regard to the way he furnishes food to the printer's devil. Here he is just finishing the number that must appear in a few days. Of course whether ill or well, stupid or fertile, he must produce the same amount of fun, pathos or sentiment. His gun must be regularly loaded and discharged at command. I should think it would wear his life out."

Motley's fears were realized within a few years.—London Chronicle.

The Homeric Controversy.

It was about the year 1795 that the "Homeric controversy" began. About that date F. A. Wolf, in his Prolegomena, argued that the Homeric poems were composed of independent epic songs, collected and arranged by Peisistratus about 550 B. C. Wolf's theory created a great stir among scholars and poets and inaugurated the fight which enlisted most of the learned men of the day. Mr. Andrew Lang, in "Homer and the Epic," 1893, vigorously defended the "one author" theory, as opposed to the idea of Wolf that the famous poems were composed through ages by many different persons.—New York American.

Shot Out.

Rev. Mr. Waters—Look at Bill Burley, for instance. It was the demon rum that made him the one eyed, low browed sot that he is today. Cactus Charley—Not altogether, parson. It mebbe made him a low browed sot, but it was me that made him one eyed.—Judge.

A Love Passage.

"Love! Ah, love!" cooed the sentimental maiden. "I feel as if I could live on nothing but love."

"Do let me be your caterer," returned the ardent youth at her side.—Boston Transcript.

Whoever sincerely endeavors to do all the good he can will probably do much more than he imagines or will ever know.—Miss Bowdler.

The temperature Sunday morning was down to 28—the coldest on record for an October day. The weather is not bound by precedent.

Ex-Governor Glenn speaks tonight at the court house. He has never spoken here except to a full house and tonight will be no exception.

Thanks to Sunny Jim's tariff or something else, the egg producers should be in a fair way to get rich. The fruit can be had now at anywhere from 32 1-2 to 40c. per dozen.

The Memphis prohibitionists who failed to interest Uncle Sam in the job of enforcing the liquor laws in Memphis have gone to work on the public prosecuter in Memphis and that sounds more like it.

Greensboro leads the way. The Charlotte Observer says: "If Charlotte does not look out, Greensboro will show it the way to public playgrounds as well as to the commission form of government."

The Hon. Jake Newell, of Charlotte, regards Marion Butler as the foremost citizen of the State. Any other Republican able to beat the old Republican organization would have been the foremost citizen in Mr. Newell's estimation.

Ex-Governor Aycock says that Vice President Sherman wouldn't dare to make in New York the sort of speech he made in this State. The V. P. is simply following in the footsteps of Mr Taft in holding that any old thing is good enough for North Carolina Republicans.

Governor Stubbs, of Kansas, in a speech before a mass meeting Sunday declared that prohibition in Kansas prohibits and that under it Kansas is prospering. Kansas is the State where the farmers in large numbers own automobiles. If the rest of the population are correspondingly well off, it certainly couldn't be claimed that prohibition has ruined Kansas. The State is to vote on the State wide question on election day and there is hardly a doubt that the proposition will carry.

Woodrow Wilson appears to have surprised the old school of politicians by coming out for the election of United States Senators by the people. The aforesaid old school has been claiming Dr. Wilson as a "conservative." But it turns out that he is a progressive, that he believes in learning in the school of experience and then putting the lessons into practical operation. Experience has certainly shown that the Senate as now constituted and chosen is anything but responsive to the public will.

The illustrated lectures being given at West Market Street Methodist church this week by Mr. Cameron Johnson, of Richmond, afford an unusual opportunity to those who are interested in church work in general or in missionary work in particular. Mr. Johnson lectures about things he has seen in the heathen lands and he presents pictures that he himself took. He lectures three more evenings—tonight, Wednesday night and Thursday night—and it is safe to assume that he will be heard by practically all the Greensboro people who are concerned for the growth of the missionary enterprise, for, as has been hinted already, these lectures are too rare a treat to be missed.

One of the most interesting bits of political gossip in connection with the New York campaign is that Col. Roosevelt and Elihu Root are at outs as a result of a speech by Root in which he said that if Stimson (Roosevelt's man) were not elected Governor of New York, Roosevelt would have to run for President in 1912 to save the day for the Republicans. Of this remark, Judge Alton B. Parker, who seems to be about the livest man in the Democratic ranks, sensibly observes:

So Senator Root decided to tell the 100,000 Republicans who have made up their minds to vote against the Republican State ticket that the reasons they give for the action are unsound; that the real way to weaken Colonel Roosevelt for 1912 is to give him a victory now, and the way to strengthen him for that contest is to bury his ticket beneath a mountain of ballots. I hazard the prediction that it will not persuade one of them that his own reason was faulty.

Of course, the way to kill Roosevelt off as regards 1912 is to "do it now."

BRIDE INSANE AT ALTAR

Young Wife Is Taken From Church To Asylum.

Monticello, N. Y., Oct. 30.—Stricken insane at the altar just as a clergyman pronounced the words that made her the wife of the man she had loved since childhood, Mrs. Minnie Curry, bride of a few hours, was taken Saturday night to the hospital for the insane at Middletown. Her husband, Amos Curry, who was formerly an attendant at the asylum, made application for reinstatement, saying he wanted to devote all his time to nursing his wife back to mental health.

Until the marriage ceremony began none of the friends or relatives of the bride, who was Miss Minnie Jemp, had the slightest suspicion that there was anything wrong with her mind. The church was crowded and the Rev. J. J. Billingsley began to read the wedding service. When he came to the question, "Do you take this man for your lawfully wedded husband?" there was no response.

Mr. Curry glanced apprehensively at the young woman. She looked about the church strangely. The clergyman repeated the question twice. After a pause the young woman replied in a low voice, "I do."

Mr. Billingsley continued with the service, finally pronouncing the couple husband and wife. As he uttered the words the bride turned deathly pale and would have fallen had not her husband caught her. She began to talk incoherently, and it became evident she was laboring under a severe mental strain.

In their carriage Mrs. Curry's condition grew worse. She declared she had not been married saying that it was a physician and not a clergyman who had officiated at the ceremony.

Mr. Curry consulted physicians, who recommended the immediate removal of the young woman to the hospital at Middletown.

Mr. and Mrs. Curry have been sweethearts since childhood. Several years ago they became engaged, but delayed their marriage until Mr. Curry should have prospered sufficiently to be able to provide a home for his wife.

Building Permits.

Building Inspector Milton issued ten permits during the month of October, the aggregate cost of the buildings to be erected, or improved, being practically $19,000. This is an average of nearly $2,000 for each building. A number of residences were erected outside the corporate limits during the month, but these are not included in the above.

Real Estate Deals.

Mr. C. L. Harbour has purchased the C. P. Vanstory farm on the Battle Ground road. Mr. J. T. B. Shaw has sold a lot on Park avenue to Mr. J. T. Cobb. Deeds transferring the above property were recorded in the office of the register of deeds yesterday.

A Drop In Rhetoric.

"I remember," said an official of the East Indian service, "the speech of an Anglo-Indian who was delegated by a certain district to place before the government's notice the horrible slaughter of their stock by tigers. A very noticeable titter could be heard in the audience when the delegate shouted very dramatically:

"'Mr. Chairman, the tiger is the most ferocious animal that prowls and runs at large in India. He creeps from his lurking place at the hour of midnight, when all nature is locked in the arms of Morpheus, and ere the portals of the east are unbound or bright Phoebus rises in his golden majesty whole litters of pigs are destroyed.'"

The Cat and the Tail.

Once upon a time a cat who prided herself on her wit and wisdom was prowling about the barn in search of food and saw a tail protruding from a hole.

"There is the conclusion of a rat," she said.

Then she crept stealthily toward it until within striking distance, when she made a jump and reached it with her claws. Alas, it was not the appendage of a rat, but the tail of a snake, who immediately turned and gave her a mortal bite.

Moral.—It is dangerous to jump at conclusions.

Hotel Insurance Against Robbery.

At a well known hostelry in Venice it is the practice to charge guests 25 centimes per diem for insurance against fire and robbery, the amount covered for this premium being 1,500 francs. This is a very convenient arrangement, as robbery is far from uncommon in Italy.—London Truth.

A Pugilistic Feat.

"Clancy, who give yez th' black eye yez have?"

"If I knew I'd lick 'im.'

"Sure, an' don't yez know?'

"How c'd I know? Me back was turned at th' toime."—Toledo Blade.

What He Got.

"What're ye comin' home with your milk pail empty for?" demanded the farmer. "Didn't the old cow give anything?"

"Yep," replied the chore boy, "nine quarts and one kick!"—Exchange.

Her Specialty.

Miss Crimsonbeak—I'd like to be a lawyer. Mr. Crimsonbeak—I guess you'd rather be a judge. "Why so?" "Oh, you'd have the last word then."—Yonkers Statesman.

ONCE A CONVICT, NOW ON THE CITY PAYROLL

Falcone, Working Under "Big Bill" Edwards, Served Ten Years in Italy.

New York World.

In the course of a unique trial yesterday in the Supreme Court it developed that the Street Cleaning Department has in its employ one Giuseppe Falcone, a citizen of the United States and of the State of New York, despite that in his native land he had been convicted of manslaughter and had served ten years in solitary confinement.

This fact was brought out in the trial of the first case on record in this State where the plaintiff claims damages because of the alleged attempt on the part of the defendant to murder her. Mrs. Maria Grazzia Diorio seeks to recover $20,000 from Leonardo Delaya, a wealthy Italian. She claims that Delaya cut her throat on the night of April 28, 1908.

Delaya, Michele Marino and Guernerino Morquelli were tried on this charge and all three were convicted and sentenced ot Sing Sing. The other two ar there now, but Delaya's case was reopened, and the indictment finally quashed. Then Mrs. Llorio sued him and he countered by suing her and the policeman who locked him up for false arrest and imprisonment.

Falcone was called by the defense. Then Lawyer John Palmieri, who represented Mrs. Diorio, took him in hand.

"Have you ever been convicted of any crime?" was asked.

Falcone hesitated, but finally admitted that he had been convicted of murder in the second degree in Italy in 1881 and had served ten years in solitary confinement.

"I was attacked by seven men," he said, "and I had to kill one of them in self-defense."

Where is the passport given you by the Italian government, before you sailed for America?"

"I tore it up on my arrival here."

Falcone then said that he had been employed by the Street Cleaning Department for three years, and had made affidavit that he was a citizen to get on the eligible list. Later he refused to explain how he procured his naturalization papers in the face of the f- that he was an ex-convict. The trial will be continued today.

No matter how bad general conditions are, business is always out of sight with the oculist.

MRS. M'KIM DENIES

Not Married to A. G. Vanderbilt She Says.

New York, Oct. 30.—Mrs. Smith Hollins McKim emphatically denies that she is married to Alfred Gwynne Vandervilt, and with just as great emphasis she denied she was engaged to him. Ever since she obtained a divorce gossip has coupled the two names together, and whenever they have been seen in each other's company strength has been added to the rumors.

The most recent story of a marriage started in the Hotel Plaza, where each stayed. They gave up their respective apartments on Thursday and departed without announcing destinations. In the afternoon they were seen together on the aviation field at Belmont Park. Then, with the wings of a giant aeroplane, Rumor soared up and down Fifth avenue spreading the tale that they were married.

When Mrs. McKim said, "I am not married to Mr. Vanderbilt and I am not engaged to him," her eyes flashed fire. "I have no expectations of becoming engaged to anybody," she went on. "These constant rumors are causing me the greatest annoyance. My friends keep asking me if every foolish story that springs up is true. I'm getting tired of denying them."

Colonel Isaac Emerson, her father, stood beside her as she talked. He nodded confirmation to everything she said.

"It is time these foolish reports stopped," he said. "There is no foundation for them, and I cannot understand how it is they are given credence. I hope this will be the last one."

Jenny Lind and the Trill.

Jenny Lind after years of steady practice believed that the much coveted trill was for her an impossibility. She practiced hours a day, but was unable to accomplish the feat. One day, thoroughly discouraged, she was sitting in her garden when all at once she looked up into a tree. Above her a bird was trilling. She at once went to her piano and through some magic or power of imitation began the trill and from that day never had any further difficulty.

Losing His Senses.

A mischievous boy, having got possession of his grandfather's spectacles, privately took out the glasses When the old gentleman put them on, finding he could not see, he exclaimed: "Mercy on me! I've lost my sight!" But, thinking the impediment to vision might be the dirtiness of the glasses, he took them off to wipe them, when, not feeling them, he, still more frightened, cried out: "Why, what's come now? I've lost my feeling too!"—London Ideas.

An Ancient House.

The ancient Romans had a catapult that could hurl rocks more than a mile.

"Now I understand it."

"What?"

My landlord told me the house was a stone's throw from the depot. He must have had it on his hands since the time of the Caesars.

A Complex Rest Cure.

"Bliggins is a very vociferous person."

"Yes," replied Miss Cayenne, "but I don't blame him. The way a man of his mentality rests his nerves is by talking so loud he can't hear himself think."—Washington Star

Center of Toughness.

Inquiring Tourist—Would you call this a tough town? Stray Native—Tough? Say, stranger, when we have old home week here detectives from all over the country come and pick out just who they want.—Puck.

Conscience.

Conscience is not an indicator of what is right. That is the province of wisdom based on knowledge. Conscience is the divine imperative impelling us to do what we believe to be right.

A whole lot of people never blame the fool for parting from his money until after it is all gone.—Philadelphia Inquirer.

Things grow smaller as they are contracted, but there are exceptions; debts, for instance.

How many times has each of us heard this or similar expression! If we go around much we hear it nearly every day. And yet so few of us really take it to heart.

If a young man gets into trouble, a bank account will pull him out. If he gets sick or injured it will pay the doctor's or druggist's bills. If he wants to buy a few shares of stock in the Company for which he works, and thereby strengthen his position, he can do it. All these things, and a hundred more, can be done with a snug bank account—but one must SAVE in order to have that account.

WHAT CURES ECZEMA?

We have had so many inquiries lately regarding Eczema and other skin diseases, that we are glad to make our answer public. After careful investigation we have found that a simple wash of Oil of Wintergreen, as compounded in D. D. D., can be relied upon. We would not make this statement to our patrons, friends and neighbors unless we were sure of it—and although there are many so-called Eczema remedies sold, we ourselves unhesitatingly recommend D. D. D. Prescription.

Because—We know that it gives instant relief to that torturing itch.

Because—D. D. D. starts the cure at the foundation of the trouble.

Because—It cleanses, soothes and heals the skin.

Because—It enables Nature to repair the ravages of the disease.

Because—The records of ten years of complete cures of thousands of the most serious cases show that D. D. D. is today recognized as the absolutely reliable Eczema cure.

Holds Swimming, Skating and Other World's Records.

Boston Globe.

Many acquaintances of Miss Margaret A. Graham, employed as a reeler in one of the mills at Ludlow, believe she is the strongest woman in the country. Although only 19 years old, she stands 6 feet, 3 1-2 inches in her stockings, weighs 189 pounds and carries no superfluous flesh.

Recently she threw a baseball 262 feet 6 inches and ran 100 yards in 11 1-2 seconds, wearing skirts.

Miss Graham has smashed all the world's records in skating for women from 1 mile to 10, her world's record time for half a mile in this sport being 1 minute 40 seconds. One of her aquatic feats is a 100-foot swim in 23 seconds.

Although she is now employed as a mill operative she spends her leisure time at work in the local gymnasium and asserts that she is going to smash many more records before she closes her athletic career.

Her skating achievements on the Van Horn reservoir in Springfield are without a parallel. In marvelous bursts of speed there she broke all women's records for skating from one-quarter mile to 10 miles. She skates without apparent effort, and no male skater in Ludlow or the surrounding towns can outspeed her. In the water she is equally at home and knows all the swimming strokes.

Hexamethylenetetramine.

Is the name of a German chemical, one of the many valuable ingredients of Foley's Kidney Remedy. Hexamethylenetetramine is recognized by medical text books and authorities as a uric acid solvent and anti-septic for the urine. Take Foley's Kidney Remedy promptly at the first sign of kidney trouble and avoid a serious malady. Howard Gardner.

The Father of Tobacco Smoking.

It is quite hopeless to trace out the fathers of smoking in general and tobacco smoking in particular. Who first drew in smoke of any kind through a pipe in England and who first of our countrymen took to tobacco will always remain disputable. It is equally uncertain which western tribe made the sublime discovery. There is even dispute as to whether tobacco takes its name from the island of Tobago, from the Yucatan province of Tobacco, from Tabasco in Florida or from a y-shaped pipe which the people of Hispaniola smoked with their noses. Only one name is definitely associated with the great institution, that of Jean Nicot, the French ambassador to Portugal, who spread the fame of the herb through Europe. And of all who are familiar with nicotine today how many associate it with Nicot or have even heard of him!—London Chronicle.

A Misplaced Title.

Among obvious misnomers one London theater is to be found. Drury Lane theater is not in Drury lane, and no reason can be assigned for giving it the name of that thoroughfare. The first theater built on the present site was at one time frequently referred to as the theater in Covent Garden. On Feb. 6, 1663, Pepys notes: "I walked up and down and looked upon the outside of the new theater building in Covent Garden, which will be very fine." In those days no theater existed in Covent Garden, the predecessor of the present opera house having been opened in 1732.—London Chronicle.

There are times when it is necessary to raise the temperature quickly or to keep the temperature up for a long period. "FLETCHERISM"

The habit of chewing one's food until it becomes almost liquefied and swallowed involuntarily, and eating certain foods at certain times of the day is called "Fletcherism" after a man named Fletcher who advocates this method as a remedy for indigestion and stomach troubles. While one may get from this system the maximum amount of strength from the minimum amount of food, it is a question as to what extent this principle of living can be applied to the human race as a whole. It is an old and true saying, "What is one man's meat is another man's poison."

There is one thing sure, however, much less distress and much more assimilation of the body-building elements contained in every day food would be experienced by people with poor or impaired digestion if they would only believe what we tell them about Vinol.

There is no mystery about it, or misrepresentation. Vinol simply contains the necessary elements needed to reestablish a normal condition of the digestive system. There is no need of going into the scientific reasons why—it simply does it, that is all.

Thousands of genuine testimonials from reliable people prove this claim, and to further support the fact and prove our faith in what we say, we unhesitatingly declare that any one who will buy a bottle of Vinol for stomach disorder and malassimilation, will have their money returned without question if they are not satisfied that it has done them good. MADCUFF WOUNDS SOTHERN.

Actor's Wrist Cut by Sword of Opponent in Practice.

New York World.

The duel between Macbeth and Macduff in the Shakespearean tragedy, which has been responsible for the injury of many actors playing one or the other of the roles, claimed E. H. Sothern as its latest victim yesterday. In a rehearsal of the play at the Lyric Theatre Mr. Sothern's foot slipped and the sword in the hands of Frederick Lewis, who was acting Macduff, cut a deep gash in the star's wrist.

The accident happened almost at the moment the duel began. Mr. Sothern dropped his sword with an exclamation of pain and Miss Julia Marlowe, who was on the stage, bound up his wrist with a handkerchief. The blood flowed freely and a surgeon had to be called in to dress the wound.

The accident will prevent further rehearsals of "Macbeth" until uext Monday. It will not interfere seriously with the business plans of the stars, since their season does not open until next Thursday night in New Haven. "Macbeth" will be the only addition to the Sothern-Marlowe repertoire this year.

THE FRENCH DUEL.

Tricks That Are Invoked to Make the Meeting Bloodless.

A French paper has been describing the various contrivances to insure pistol duels ending in "coffee for two." A favorite trick, it seems, is to use projectiles that look like ordinary lead bullets, but crumble to pieces when fired. In more serious cases bullets are used of smaller caliber than the pistol, thus lessening their penetrating power.

Sometimes the wad is intentionally left out, so that when the duelists face each other with the pistols held downward the bullets roll out. In many cases bullets of the right caliber are used, but only with a third of the proper powder charge, so that they are practically harmless. A variation of this trick is to load with a double powder charge, which also causes the bullets to go wide of the mark. This, however, is dangerous to the spectators.

Again, well meaning seconds sometimes use the right bullets and the right charge, but stiffen the triggers so that the extra pressure causes the bullets to go wide. Perhaps the most amusing device is the use of pistols fitted with a sort of secret safety valve, which opens when the weapon is loaded, so that the bullet drops out and only the powder charge remains.—Exchange.

Forced To Leave Home.

Every year a large number of poor sufferers whose lungs are sore and racked with coughs are urged to go to another climate. But this is costly and not always sure. There's a better way. Let Dr. King's New Discovery cure you at home. "It cured me of lung trouble," writes W. R. Nelson, of Calamine, Ark., "when all else failed and I gained 47 pounds in weight. Its surely the King of all cough and lung cures." Thousands owe their lives and health to it. Its positively guaranteed for Coughs, Colds, LaGrippe, Asthma, Croup—all Throat and Lung troubles, 50c and $1.00. Trial bottle free at Fariss-Klutz Drug Co.
